Windows Game Product Comparison Chart

Strat-O-Matic Windows game packages include all of the features that make our software the greatest and most accurate baseball sim game out there. The difference in each package will be the extras that you receive. We have four different computer game packages available:

Note: Season Rosters are player add-ons that require a game version purchase to install and play.

NOTE: Please check the year on all of the "Current Edition" Board Games and Windows Games, as the production time on all of the new seasons for each sport may vary.

Windows Product	Computer Game	Board Game Cards	Card Image
Strat-O-Matic Baseball Our base game package that includes everything you need to get started with the best baseball sim game ever. Each game version includes the most currently completed season roster with your purchase.	X
Strat-O-Matic Baseball with Cards The best of both worlds! Our outstanding computer baseball sim game combined with the complete set of cards for our board game. If you like to play both the board and computer games, this is the package for you. NOTE: This package only includes the board game cards, it does not include the board game parts.	X	X
Strat-O-Matic Baseball with Card Image If you like the idea of playing the computer game "old school" by using the cards but don't have the room on your desk, then the Card Image module is for you. The Card Image is a powerful tool that will allow you to access a player's card image from anywhere within the computer game. Viewing a player's card is the best way to analyze a player's abilities or to compare players when creating lineups or making substitutions. NOTE: the Card Image feature must be purchased up front with your game. This feature cannot be added on later to a game that does not include the Card Image feature.	X		X
Strat-O-Matic Baseball with Cards and Card Image Welcome to the Show. This 3-in-1 package gives you everything. The ability to play the best baseball sim game ever with all the bells and whistles.	X	X	X
